*My Life as a Cartoonist’s Daughter!
Wednesday, May 22, 1:30 - 2:30 pm
Presented by Virginia Brooks

join Carefree artist Virginia Brooks as she describes her hilarious upbringing as a cartoonist’s kid in Westport, CT in the 50’s and 60’s. “It was an unusual upbringing. Every cartoonist I ever met was a little bit Crazy. We were the kids of the Funny Families. The Blondies, The Popeyes, the Orphan Annies…and in my case, The Jackson Twins.” This was the Golden Era of cartooning. The cartoonists thrived on humor and were constantly trying to outdo each other. When a cover artist for the Saturday Evening Post couldn’t afford a model, he asked Virginia’s father to pose. She was allowed to stay home from school to watch her Dad being painted as a husband with a backed-up kitchen sink. Virginia’s father made the cover of The Saturday Evening Post as Mr. Fixit, on January 14, 1956. And the yearly National Cartoonist Society meetings were events Virginia begged to attend. That’s where she met Salvador Dali, with his ocelot on a leash!

If you like laughing come be a part of the fun. And enjoy the memorabilia Virginia will bring with her.

*Hiking Safety – After the Fall; My Helicopter Rescue Off the Mountain

Friday, May 24, 1:00 – 2:30 pm

You suffer an immobilizing injury on the trail, now what happens? What do you do? Arizona’s first responders are called upon to rescue hundreds of residents and visitors who have suffered debilitating injuries while exploring our beautiful mountain trails. “After the Fall; My Helicopter Rescue Off the Mountain” chronicles the dramatic real-life experience that Rick Kamel faced with his call for a chopper to rescue him as he lay helpless on the harsh desert mountain trail. The presenter, Rick Kamel, from Phoenix said, “My goal is to provide those who attend this presentation, detailed insight into the strategies and tactics I used to facilitate a safe, speedy and smooth rescue. My hope is by telling my story, I will offer meaningful insight should a disabling trail mishap befall other hikers or bike riders.” Rick Kamel is entirely retired and moved to Phoenix 5 years ago from the mid-west. He is an avid mountain and desert hiker as well as pavement walker averaging over 125 miles/month. His hikes have covered countless mountain ranges from Mexico to the Canadian Rockies, Death Valley, and even parts of the Mohave Desert. Rick enjoys forest hiking as well. Hiking parts of the Great Smoky Mt., Appalachian Trail, Ozark Mountains and the Heron, Hiawatha and Manistee National Forests. His latest treks this past summer took him to Gila National Forest in NM, parts of the Colorado Trail and the Rio Grande Gorge outside of Taos. May 16 - Banned Books in the United States
Per Harvard University’s Gutman Library website, the USA’s first book ban took place in 1637 in what is now Quincy, Massachusetts. The Puritan government banned Thomas Morton’s “New English Canaan,” for being a harsh and heretical critique of Puritan customs and power structures. In 2022, the American Library Association documented 1,269 demands to censor 2,571 unique titles, the highest number of attempted book bans in more than 20 years. Choose any literary genre, nonfiction or fiction, about the subject of book banning in the United States. Who called for the ban(s)? What did they object to? If they were successful in having the book(s) censored, how long did the censorship last? What were the political and/or social roots and ramifications of the ban?

June 20 - Contemporary European, Asian, Latin American and Indigenous Literature
What kinds of stories, issues and topics are being explored by European, Asian, Latin American and Indigenous writers? Choose a book (fiction or nonfiction), film, play, poem or song with a theme or message that touches you intellectually, emotionally, or both. Tell us if it resonates with, challenges or changes your perception of the topic you read about, and what you learned from it.
